It is really amusing to read the lucu rations of the enemies of Douglas in the South. They are greatly exercised about principle. Douglas is a heretic, and, therefore ought not, in any event, to be snipported. llow virtuous and patriotie! What sticklers for principle! It would be well for their credit it the rest of mankind had no memories, and these politicians no record. Twelve years ago General Cass pronounced anti-slavery pro visces unconstitutional; and along with that assigned to the people of the Territories entire sovereignty over this question of slavery. His letter was plain and explicit. lle was nomnated by the universal approbation of the outh for the office of President. A few af feeted not to understand that he would allow a Territorial Legislature to exclude slavery; but it was their own fault it they misunde stood him. llis language could not have been more explicit.

The point was subsequently brought up is the Senate, and he made a long and able speech on the point, in which he repeated, i the strongest terms, what he had said explicitly in his letter. All misunderstanding of his po sition was at an end. Subsequently, in 1852, the Democratic Convention met at Baltimor Then Kentucky, Louisiana, Tennessee, Mary land, Delaware and Missouri voted for him a the nominee, day after day, against all other candidates. The other slave States voted for others; but it was not because General Cas held any heresy on this subject. It was no debated in the Convention at all; although there was not an intelligent politician in the body who did not know the opinions of Gen Cass on this subject. Indeed, the compromise measures of 1850, and non-intervention with slavery in the Territories, were indorsed by the Convention. The slavery question was to be localized, and return no more to Congress What had been done was a finality. By the it was not meant that no more Territories were to be organized; but that the principle of the organization of such communities was settled And the great merit of the pri the people of the Territories were to dispose of this matter of slavery, restrained only by the lecisions of Courts. Here, then, were all the Southern States committed. It was no objection to General Case, that he held this doc trine, in the Southern States. Some politician did not agree with him; but they waived their point; for they were few and far between This same distinguished statesman-Genera Cass-was selected by the present Executiv for the chief office in his Cabinet. There he i still, an honored member of that body, not ob jected to at all by the present enemies of Douglas.

There is, moreover, the present Executive hiu self, who proclaimed in his letter of acceptance that the people of a Territory, "like those of a State," could exclude slavery. Some of his friends even pretend to misunderstand this language, which only shows how men can misunderstand when they want to. We need not refer to Cobb, Stephens, Orr and others who are on record explicitly for this awful That is not the worst; this same STEPHEN

A. Douglas, from 1848 to 1856, repeated this same heresy and defended it so often in the Senate that not a member of that body, or any other composed of intelligent men, misunder stood him. One of his enemies, in 1858, de nonstrated from the record of Douglas, by ex tracting whole columns from his speeches, that the said Douglas always held this terrible her esy. let, at Cincinnati, nearly all the South voted for him as the nominee for President What a record for these politicians of the Sont to look at! What must an intelligent people think of them? Are their memories so show that such facts have escaped them already? It so, how soon will they torget their present agouy? Do they pretend ignorance of such notorious facts? Who, then, should trust then as statesmen?

The plain truth is, all this hostility to Doug las is personal. He would not wear the collar these politicians would put on him. He would not play the fiddle for them to dance by. He next. is not the material mediocrities can use for their purposes. llis stern defiance of move ments he did not approve has made him an ob ject of envy and hate. His power with the masses, who always admire boldness and consistency, in spite of opposition high or low, only creates a more bitter and releutless enmity. The operatives would see the Democratic party sunk forever, rather than Douglas should be President. It is idle to tell them of their inconsistencies, and self stultifications It is equally idle to show them that they will beat the party: the latter is an alternative they are ready to accept; which, in fact, they desire, if they can't otherwise gratify their hate. Accursed be Douglas! He is a heretic! Well, is not Cass, too, a heretic. Were not Stephens, Orr. Cobb, and all the rest heretics? and are they not yet heretics? or do they deny and repudiate their record? Were not the whole party hereties in 1848, 1852, and 1856? Or must the party deny its record, and repudiate all it has said and done to accommodate the dead timber, consisting of men who hold high positions; but who couldn't now be elected corporals in a single county in their own States by their own party; whose support would be a dead weight to earry in a popular

Look to Your Interests.

The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and mos experienced manufacturer of trunks and simlar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city mer chants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line be cannot be equaled. Whoever wants t travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hard His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hun-dreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a matter of thome pride, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interests in purchasing of Mr. O'Hare.

On motion of Mr. Sumner a resolution was lopted instructing the Committee on Finsuce consider whether the numerous custom-onse oaths now administered under acts of ngress may not with propriety be abolished, and simple declarations substituted therefor.

On motion of Mr. Benjamin the Senate conred the bill amending the existing laws relive to the compensation of the District At-racys, Marshals and therks of the United ates Circuit and District Courts. The bills were discussed and passed.

The special order was taken up, being a pint resolution authorizing the cularrement ud construction of a branch to the Loui-ville and Portland caual. Mr. Wade presented resolutions of the Ohio Legislature in favor of the same object, which

On motion of Mr. Bright an amendment was adopted providing that when the canal shall be enlarged and the branch constructed and the cost of this improvement is paid for, no more tolls shall be collected than an amount ficient to keep the canal in repair and pay or the necessary superintendence.

Mr. Toombs opposed the bill, saying that the government owned all excepting five shares, which were held by directors, who controlled the work, doing just what they pleased. of they made money, very well; but it they got in debt, they would call on the government to foot the bills.

Mr. Powell stated that the Government had received $24,000 more than it ever put in the work, and had purchased more than one thou-saud shares, not with mouey from the Federal Treasury, but from tolls collected from ves sels passing through the caual. All he usked was that they might be allowed and use the revenue and credit of the canal so as to cu arge it sufficiently to accommo late the sufficient to make the proposed improvement and repairs. Not one dollar was asked from vernment. Crittenden remarked that these directive the preserve ors had held the stock merely for the preservation of the work, and had managed it the best they could.

Mr. Davis thought, for the government to hold stock in a canal, was an invasion of the jurisdiction of a sovereign State. He admitted in enlargement was needed, but Kentuck unght to control the whole matter.

The bill was passed—30 yeas, 14 nays.
On motion of Mr. Mason, the Senate went no executive session, and subsequently advanced.

llouse .- Mr. Millson introduced a joint reslution declaring the construction that shall e put upon the act making appropriation for e satisfaction of the land warrants approved ugust, 1852. Referred.
Mr. Harris, of Md., introduced a bill for continuing and completing the improvement of the navigation of the Patapaco river and rendering the port of Baltimore accessible. Referred to the Committee on Commerce. The House passed the consular diplomstic appropriation bill.

On motion of Mr. Maynard a resolution was adopted, tendering the thanks of the llouse to the clergymen of the District of Columbia, who, previous to the election of Chaplain, attended and opened the daily sessions with

Mr. Campbell, from the Committee on Elecions, reported a resolution declaring it inex redient to allow further time to take testimon in the case of Mr. Howard, contestant of the seat of Mr. Cooper, from the First Congres-sional District of Michigan. The cousidera-tion was postponed until Tuesday next. Mr. Campbell reported a resolution, which was dopted, giving Mr. Howard leave to occupy se, and permission to speak to the merits of the question.

The llouse then went into committee on the eport to amend the rules.

Mr. Washburn, from Maine, explained. The bject of the amendment was more to correct he practice under the rules, than the rules themselves, and facilitate the dispatch of busi-ness and remove well-founded complaints Several hours were con-umed without coming amittee arose, and the Indian appropria ion bill was passed.

Mr. Hamilton moved that the military road.

way bill, as returned by the Senate with amend ments, be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, saying one of them was of great interest to Texas and had shready been considered by the committee, viz: calling out a nounted regiment.
Mr. Sherman desired the bill referred to the
